

A CLEAN ENERGY POLICY FOR AUSTRALIA

- Prepare Australia for structural changes developed internationally in response to climate change.
- Develop Australia's clean energy sector by pursuing a market based economic signal that does NOT discriminate between technologies.

"The most important thing for the government to do is to form a view about greenhouse gas emissions and whether fossil fuel sources should meet the costs of their emissions. Then depending on the level of those costs, the promoters of alternative energy sources such as nuclear or renewables can form a business case. Frankly, we think that's all the Government should do.
